Workforce Housing

Thank you for your interest in applying to live at Casa Siena! In addition to our market rate apartment homes at Casa Siena, a portion of our apartment homes in this community have been reserved for moderate to middle income, critical workforce such as teachers, nurses, first responders, City and County Staff, and other workers. The workforce housing at Casa Siena enables these essential workers to live in the community where they work, avoid a lengthy commute and spend more time with family.

QUALIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

Any applicant or household living in one of these workforce apartment homes can earn up to the following annual incomes:

- 1- person household - up to $54,960
- 2- person household - up to $62,800
- 3- person household - up to $70,640
- 4- person household - up to $78,480
- 5- person household - up to $84,800

*Provided from Housing Authority as of 2024

Applicants must collectively have income in an amount not less than three times the rental rate. We obtain a credit report on each applicant. Our credit reporting agency evaluates credit (which may include rent payment history) as an indicator of future rent payment performance. An unsatisfactory finding will result in the requirement of an additional deposit or denial. Applicants are responsible for ensuring their credit history is accurate.

We obtain a criminal background check on each applicant who will reside in the apartment home. It is possible your application will be denied due to criminal convictions.
